What is Japan's first energy storage project?

In 2015, we started Japan's first demonstration project covering energy storage connected to the power grid in the Koshikishima, Satsumasendai City, Kagoshima. This project is still operating in a stable manner today. One feature of our grid energy storage system is that it utilizes reused batteries from EVs.

Does Japan need battery energy storage?

A Growing Need for Energy Storage The increasing generation of renewables on the Japanese grid has led to various support policies and CAPEX subsidy schemes to support the deployment of grid-scale Battery Energy Storage (BESS).

Where is Korea's energy storage facility located?

The Korean electrical equipment and automation systems company announced yesterday (14 April) that it will deploy the large-scale standalone energy storage facility in Watari, a largely agricultural town on the Pacific coast in Miyagi Prefecture, about 330km northeast of the Japanese capital, Tokyo.

What are the requirements for a battery project in Tokyo?

These are the Ministry of Economy, Trade, and Industry (METI) and the Tokyo prefectural subsidies. There are a series of requirements to be eligible: projects must have a minimum capacity of 1 MW, the battery must be able to participate in various markets, and the battery must be directly connected to the grid.
